MCCARTHY AND MORAN BOUND OVER TO DISTRICT COURT

Jack McCarthy and J. J. Morgan were given a preliminary hearing this morning in the municipal court on the charge of burglary in the third degree. After hearing the testimony, the judge bound the two defendants over to the district court for trial, basing his decision on the fact that the testimony given by the witnesses for the city and the defendants, concerning the circumstances surrounding the arrest, differed so materially, that a trial would be necessary to establish the guilt or innocence of the defendants.

In the preliminary hearing, the state was represented by County Attorney David Jensen and the defendant by Attorney J. H. Bailey of Salt Lake City.

The first witness for the state was Detective Robert Burk. He and Chauffeur Nelson, about 5 p. m., April 29, after searching through a number of rooms at No. 10, Electric alley, reached one at the northeast corner of the house and found the door locked.

They noticed that the key had been left in the door and tried to remove it, but someone on the inside of the room held it fast. Burk heard a noise in the room as though someone was moving and demanded that the door be opened. He received no answer and then Nelson went to the auto-patrol and secured a screw-driver. With this, the witness said, the chauffeur removed the hasp from the door and they entered the room, finding McCarthy and Moran there.

Burk questioned the two men and McCarthy said that Moran got him to go into the house.

On cross-examination, Detective Burk stated that no weapons of any kind or any stolen goods were found on the two men, but that, in conversation with the men, Moran had said, "You can lay the blame all on me."

Chauffeur Nelson's testimony was similar to that of Detective Burk, except that he gave a few more details.

Officer Layne, who, with Officers Russell and Mohlman, was on watch outside the house while Burk and Nelson were inside, testified as to the conversation had with the two men.

Mrs. Dora B. Topham testified that the house, No. 10 Electric Alley, belonged to the Utah Mercantile, Land and Investment company and that she had charge of it. She said that, on account of its having been burglarized once before, that virtually all of the articles that could be easily removed had been taken away from the place at her order, about a month ago.

J. E. Brown of 2452 Lincoln avenue, stated that he saw a man enter the house through the basement window.

After the state's witnesses had concluded, the defendants' attorney asked for a recess, which was granted. When court was called to order again, the two defendants were placed upon the stand. Both said that they had been drinking heavily on the afternoon of April 29, and that, when they entered the house, they did not know what they were doing. They also said that they did not hear the officers trying to enter the room and McCarthy said that the shock he received by the handcuffs being placed upon him, sobered him up, as it was the first time he had ever been arrested in his life.

On cross examination, Moran stated that he worked in Ogden several years ago and that he had slept in vacant houses in Electric Alley before, having entered them in a manner similar to that of the present instance. Both men came here from Collinston, Utah.

After binding the men over to the district court, the judge adjourned court.

LIFE-SAVING IN UTAH TO BE REWARDED BY MEDALS

Senator Reed Smoot has received the following letter from the American Cross of Honor, which is given publicity in Utah in order that those who have performed heroic acts of life saving in this state may be duly recognized by the society:

"Sir: At the annual meeting of the board of governors of the American Cross of Honor, held at Trenton, N. J., April 4, 1914, it was decided to award bronze crosses of honor to a certain number of persons that had rendered the most heroic service in saving human life.

"There are many instances of heroism in the saving of human life in great fires, in mining disasters, in storms, and from death by drowning, that under the law, can not be recognized by the United States government in awarding its life-saving medal of honor, and it is believed that the Cross of Honor, in such cases, would be a recognition of heroism that otherwise would go unrewarded.

"We believe that your constituents would consider that you had rendered them a service if the proposed action by this order were given publicity in your state, and the names and heroic deeds of persons submitted to our board in order to select the most deserving to receive the honor of the cross.

In applications to have the cross awarded, printed blanks will be furnished, and applicants will be required to submit an affidavit corroborated by two testifying witnesses, who saw the acts performed for which the applicant asks to receive the cross.

The life-saving order of the American Cross of Honor was organized in 1895, and chartered by the act of congress in 1905. Its regular membership is composed of persons upon whom the United States government has conferred the life-saving medal of honor, and its object is to encourage the saving of human life throughout the world. (Signed) THOMAS H. HENDERSON, President.

OBJECTIONS MADE TO DISTRIBUTION OF AN ESTATE

Hearing of the petition of the administrator for summary distribution of the estate of George Lavanter, deceased, was heard before Judge Howell today and the matter taken under advisement.

George Lavanter died about ten years ago, since which time his wife has held title to the property. She is now 88 years old and a resident of Idaho. She desires a distribution of certain real estate that she may dispose of it and realize a sufficient amount to provide the necessities of life.

The heirs-at-law contend that the wife has only a life interest in the realty and that it should not be given to her for sale. They say they are willing that she shall have the benefits of the income from the property as long as she lives, but that it should not be disposed of to parties not interested in the estate.

Judge Howell explained that the law provides that where an estate does not exceed in value $1500, the surviving wife or husband may be given title in fee simple on application. The contestants have introduced testimony to show that the estate was worth more than $1500 at the time of Mr. Lavanter's death, and that Mrs. Lavanter has used all the personal property for her support, also having had control and reaped the benefits of the little piece of land and home in Weber county.

The Weber club of Ogden and the Brigham City Commercial club will join hands tomorrow evening in a "Booster" and "Get-acquainted" social, to be held in the Brigham City dancing academy. The Brigham City committee has made extensive preparations to entertain the Ogden guests in a thoroughly satisfying way and the affair is being looked forward to with considerable pleasure by the members of both clubs.

The invitation of the Brigham City club to the Weber club also included any Ogden citizen who desired to attend and a large number of local people expect to make the trip to the peach town by automobile or rail.

The program for the occasion will consist of a big dinner early in the evening, to be followed by a grand ball, which will last until midnight. An excursion has been arranged via the Ogden Rapid Transit company's line, the cars to leave Ogden at intervals in the afternoon and the last one to leave Brigham City at 12:15 a. m.

LA FOLLETTE ON RATE ADVANCE

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Senator La Follette told the senate today he would lay before it "an organized conspiracy to control, to compel and to intimidate the interstate commerce commission" in the increased freight rate case that has been pending for several months.

In urging the passage of his bill to make it unlawful for any person to attempt to influence the commission in reaching any decision, Senator La Follette declared the proposed 5 per cent increase, as asked by the railroads, would "lay on the consumers of this country an aggregate of $100,000,000."

Senator La Follette declared "an attempt has been made to subject the commission to every form of influence and pressure which human ingenuity could devise in order to force from it a decision favorable to the railroads."
